Parisian Winter

Ten outfits on seven coat & layer moves from Inès de la Fressange's winter wardrobe, at 69

FREE SNEAK PEEK · 4 OF 22 PAGES

One move and one outfit, in full

A note before you start

The video gave you the seven moves. These notes turn them into ten outfits you can put together this week.

Most of the pieces are already in a winter wardrobe: a navy coat, a pair of jeans, a turtleneck, a jumper you could tie at the waist. Where something is worth buying, page 21 says so, and it also says what to skip.

Each outfit page has the formula, the move it is built on, the one detail to get right, a swap if you don't own the piece, and a check to do before you leave the house.

Inès said it best: she needs little, and good. Start with the outfit that needs the fewest new things.

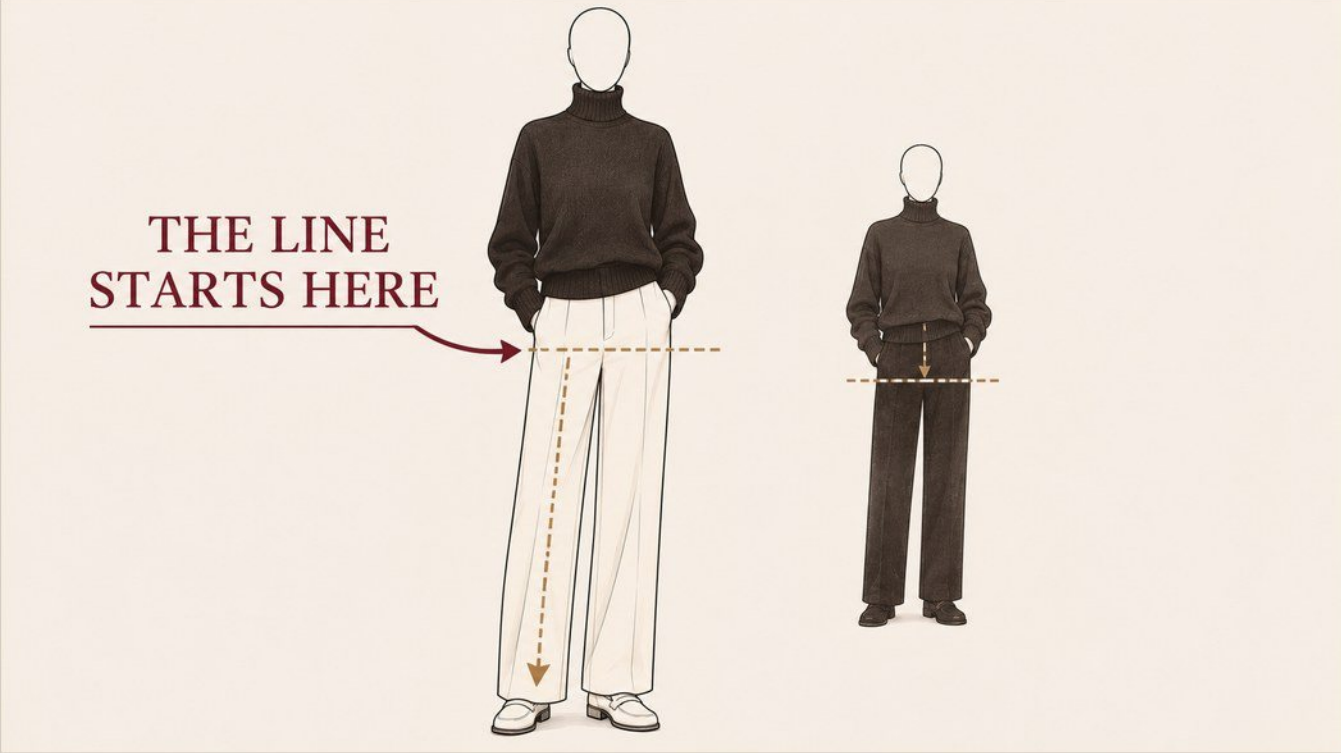

Leo

TRENDS SPOTTED FASHION

Inès de la Fressange is not involved with Trends Spotted Fashion. The seven moves are my reading of her public interviews and outfits; her words are quoted from those interviews. The outfits use generic high-street pieces.

MOVE 2 OF 7

White jeans in winter

WHY IT WORKS

Winter wardrobes are mostly dark, and dark from shoulder to shoe becomes one block. Light trousers break it at the hip and carry the eye down, so you look taller and fresher. A short coat lets the light start at the hip.

“En hiver avec un gros pull, un caban.”

THE DETAIL

Choose heavy winter denim in white or ecru. Thin summer white jeans look cold and show everything.

THE CHECK

From the side: the dark should end at the hip, not mid-thigh.

OUTFIT 2 OF 10 MOVE 2

The caban

Navy pea coat + cream jumper + white jeans + black belt + black loafers

The coat stops at the hip, so the white starts at the hip. The black belt and black loafers repeat each other, which keeps the light trousers from floating.

SWAP No pea coat? Any hip-length navy or black jacket in wool.

CHECK From the side: dark ends at the hip.

18 more pages

are in the full Style Notes.

- Nine more outfits, each on its own page
- The other six moves, with the reasoning and the check
- What to buy and what to skip this winter
- Ten more outfits from the same pieces

STYLE NOTES CLUB

New Style Notes with every video, plus the seasonal guides.
$9 a month or $90 a year. Join before 1 January and keep $9.

trendsspottedfashion.com/club

Already in the Elegant Insider Club on YouTube?

The Style Notes Club is included. Email leo@trendsspottedfashion.com with your YouTube name, and I'll send your access.